The Creux of the Matter

Starters

A pretty good turnout this morning and it was lovely to see Bunty and the girls back from their hols & riding their bikes. We also welcomed Higgins, a visiting hasher from Brussels, on a mission to visit as many hash clubs as possible. The Crapaud Hash will be number 100 on his list.

Centenarian

Instructions

Our lone running hare explained that there were no hazards to be aware of & he hoped that it was a well laid trail, so it was just "on on". The trail was to lead us towards La Moye School and Les Quennevais Sports track with a sneaky loop towards St Brelade's football club.

Just back & already in trouble

A check enabled Rupert Bear to have a rest in a shopping trolley. Not having hashed for some time it was pretty obvious that his fitness level was not what it once was & the help was welcomed.

Happy walkers

Past the lavender farm and a quick hello to Hima and his daughter as we ran down his track towards the Winston Churchill Park, where we stopped for a check, and a bit of tree hugging and trouser pulling.

The sea was warm

On to St Brelade's beach where the tide was tantalisingly high, and then to the cliff paths back of St Brelade's Bay church and on home to Les Creux and tasty bacon roll on downs.

Walking trails

The walkers had set off in a different direction to the runners heading towards the railway track then onto the cliff path to Beauport, including enjoying those dreaded 100 steps. It could not have been too bad as all made it back to the Bowls Club safe & well in good time for the welcome refreshments.

Those dreaded steps!

Down downs

Somehow whilst the birthday song was being sung in honour of Molehills 70th Birthday there was a recording failure & no photo was taken. He enjoyed his down-down nonetheless.

Higgins samples real beer

All that remained was to reward our hares for their efforts particularly deserved as they had to change the venue at short notice.
