Short but beautifully formed

The lure of the wild west struck once again as Skywalker summoned us to gather at Les Quennevais Sports Centre. There was the usual good turnout of our walkers & the number of runners had leapt to 7 – the best of the year, so far.

The attraction of the dunes could not be denied & both runners & walkers made their way there but by different routes. The runners set off to the north, near Creepy Valley & down Le Mont a la Brune. But at the bottom of the hill we had the pleasure of entering the dunes. By this time the sun was shining out of a blue sky. Skywalker did the decent thing & took us around & not through the winter pond. The thing about dunes is that it takes a little effort to climb them. This the runners did & reached paths around to sports pitches where they came upon Walkies, Chickpea & tchians taking a rest. From there it was just a little trot back to the car park although some decided to extend the run by heading for Corbière. Good on them.

As is usual at this venue we repaired to the Hockey Clubhouse for refreshments. For once the runners were enjoying their drinks before the walkers returned. It was remarkable that there were so many children being coached & playing which was, of course, a delight to Steptoe. It did mean that the bar area was very busy with parents & children.

As seems usual these days there were no sinners which meant that Skywalker was the only person deserving punishment. So as not to disturb the punters in the bar we went outside where Skywalker downed his pint in his own inimitable style. It had turned out to be a short run but an enjoyable one.

Thanks are due to Molehills & Hooker for providing me with additional photos.
