RETURN OF THE JACKSON 5

Jacko was the hare for this week's run so it was no surprise to find us out west at Greve De Lecq. His brother and family were staying at the Prince of Wales and were also joining us.

We had been asked by the GM to wear red, white and blue clothing in honour of the King's coronation and some of us actually bothered. Some also went above and beyond - Vital Statistics turned up with bunting which was put to good use in the team photo (see below)

We welcomed back the three intrepid harriettes who had recently reached the summit of Mount Snowdon in a sponsored trek for the Gurkha Welfare Trust. Well done Twin Peaks, Wendolene and Vital Statistics. Here is the letter of thanks they received:

"On behalf of the Gurkha Welfare Trust (GWTJ), I would like to thank you and the Crapaud Hash, most warmly, for your generous donation of £340 to GWTJ..."

In effect, your donation of £340 including will be tripled by Jersey Overseas Aid (JOA) for our next, 2023/2024, projects, which will be more village Water and Sanitation projects. The JOA funding is conditional on GWTJ funding one third of our project costs and your very generous donation will help us greatly to reach our target.

Kind Regards, John Pinel. Chair GWTJ"

Anyhoo back to Jacko's run. There was a very good turnout of both runners and walkers. The runners headed off to our very own mini mountain at the eastern end of the beach. This involved climbing up a slippery slope with the aid of ropes and then circling around the mount. It caused the pack to become rather strung out but they eventually made it back to the road to Crabbe where they met up with the walkers who were ascending the steep road. Where they went after that can be seen on the GM's Strava download and the photos he took.(your humble scribe was with the walkers!)

The walkers continued their route past Crabbe dodging bullets and grapeshot on the way. They continued to Greve De Lecq hill and then descended through the woods to the bay.

We all met up at the front terrace at the prince of Wales. Loads of sausages, bread and chips were provided and tackled with gusto by the pack. The sinners were then called for their down downs. First was the lovely Hannah for daring to wear new shoes (although they certainly looked worn in by the end of the run!) She was joined by Steptoes for going over and beyond the call of duty for a red and blue theme by spilling his own blood. Finally Jacko was punished for providing an excellent run.
