

CRAPAUD H3 REPORT

Run No:	1769	Date:	10 th December 2023
Hare(s):	Hooker & Wendolene (again)	Scribe:	Steptoe

Festive Fun - Films & Musicals

It would not be Christmas without the Crapaud Christmas Run. This sentiment was embraced by the 26 Runners that gathered in Sand Street Car Park at 11.00 am.

There was much admiring of the various outfits that had been donned to celebrate Films & Musicals, However, it was not all fun as a minutes silence was observed in remembrance of the victims of Le Haut du Mont disaster of the previous year.

Our hares, Hooker & Wendolene, explained that this “Run” was to be a walk & that the first hostelry was to be The Adelphi on the Parade. We were welcomed at the pub where London Pride was on offer & very nice too. Where was Cliffhanger? Ragsby had rung him & found that he was still tucked up in his bed! Finally, our hares dragged us away & revealed that our next destination was to be the Warf bar at the Pomme d’Or. On our way we passed the Autism Boutique, where many of our Harriettes volunteer, & saw the proudly displayed trophy for their decorated Christmas window.

The Warf bar was very quiet before the Hash arrived. Not surprising as there was no real ale. Cliffhanger managed to turn up before we left for Chambers where we were to be fed. And very good was the food & the wine flowed freely.

Punishments were administered in the time-honoured manner, Cliffhanger for being a sleepy head, Ragsby & Foxy for non-fancy dress & finally our hares for organizing an excellent event.

As the party started to break up a section decided that they wanted to continue enjoying themselves & so they did.

Thanks are particularly due to our hares as without their efforts we would not enjoy our Christmas celebrations.

Thanks must also be given to those who provided me with the additional photos.

On on, Steptoe

Backs to the wall

Smart or what?

Nonsense

The circus comes to town

My goodness!

Frisco's money & moths

On our way

Happy Hares

Guinevere enjoys a pint

Puss in Boots

Congratulations

Cliffhanger at last

Happy time

Relaxing

Still relaxed

Hares rewarded

The stay outs

Still going

Cheers!

Chickpea & Santa step out

The End