A bit of a marathon

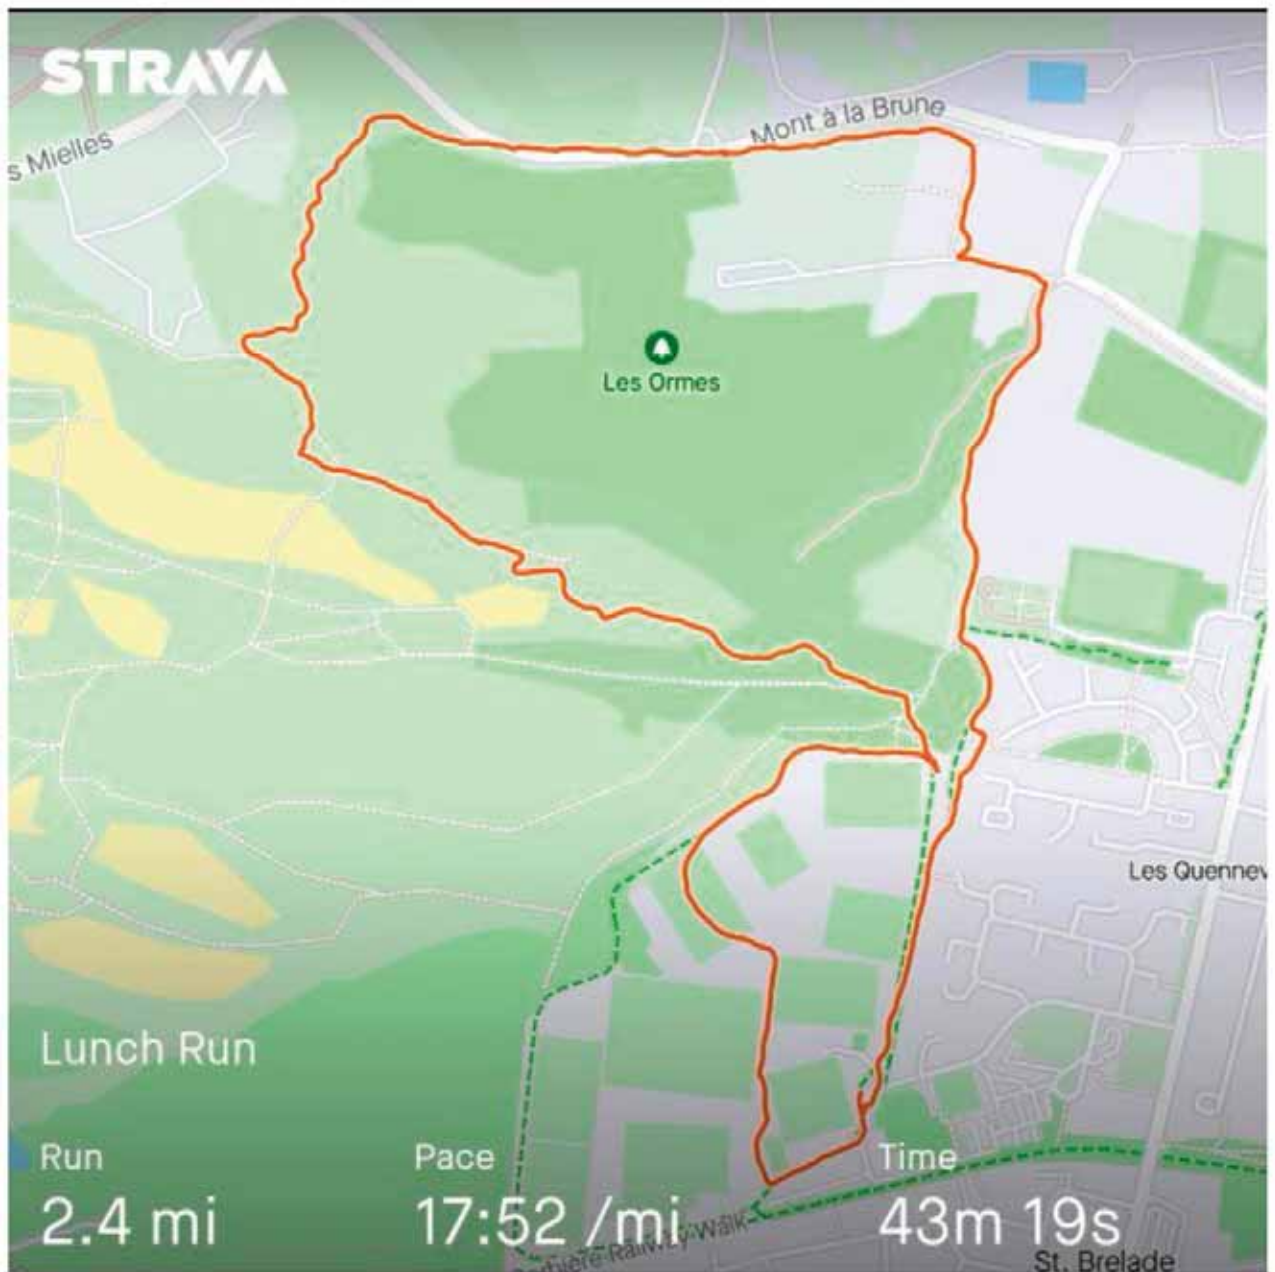

Today's trail from Quennevais was laid by Hooker and Poocock, there had been some last minute news of a half marathon being held at the same venue (via Tinky) and most of the pack made other parking arrangements, but for Bags of it and ET ,to name a few, there were a few circuits of the area before spaces were found.

After the delay the 4 runners headed off on a reverse of the laid trail to avoid the half marathon runners on their route, however it seems that they lost the trail in the sand dunes and found their own way back to join the walking group at the croquet club for the on downs. (See the STRAVA Route pic)

The 11 walkers enjoyed a pleasant route around the cycle track and down to the bottom of creepy valley where the water level was extremely low. En route we met a former hasher Nelson who was happy to see everyone. The trail led us into Les Ormes where Poocock found not 1 but 2 golf balls which were presented to golfer Smuggler.

The on downs at the croquet club were plentiful and tasty, enjoyed in the sunshine. Down downs, administered by our GM, to the hares, Commando for a happy return after a long absence and to Chickpea who had been in the local media and she had omitted mentioning the hash.

Thanks to Hooker and Poocock for a great morning in the sunshine.

NOT A MARATHON!
