Frisco's busy weekend

Well the hare for the run from Devil's Hole, Frisco, had a very full weekend. Not only was he today's hare but the day before he had organised a Jersey mini bike bash and BBQ at Château Pemberton.

There were ten cyclists on the bike bash and we also picked up a couple of bemused and lost Dutch tourists on the way. Frisco took the lead and amazingly he only got lost four times. However we did arrive at our lunch stop above Bouley Bay where Muff Diver and Twin Peaks awaited us with suitable refreshments. From there it was a straightforward jaunt to chez Frisco. A fun time was had by the riders and other guests on a beautiful sunny day. Some of us were only too pleased to avail ourselves of the swimming pool. There was more than enough food and drink for a small army and we all tucked in. A very pleasant way to enjoy a Jersey summer's day.

The next morning Frisco arrived by bike to meet us at Devil's Hole. There were plenty of runners and walkers bolstered by ET's family contingent and Illegal's young friends. We were all impressed with ET's nephew who was going to run pushing a three wheeled buggy containing his two toddlers!

Before setting off Frisco explained that he had not had time to lay a trail and so he was going to be a live hare. I have subsequently been informed that he managed to lead the pack through a private garden. He then shot out of sight leaving the pack to placate the angry owners. The full trail can be seen below - courtesy of Ballcock's Strava.

The walkers meanwhile had a nice gentle start along St Mary's lovely lanes before Illegal and Muff Diver led them onto very dusty fields and to the cliff path. It was a hot and sweaty slog back to the Priory at Devil's Hole and the chance to rehydrate.

The comestibles were the usual tasty sausages accompanied by chips and buttered bread. Then it was time for the down downs. First up was Taxi for her recent birthday. However she struggled with the half pint and ended up nominating yours truly. The other down downs were for virgins Joseph and Harry plus our hare. Well done Frisco!
