Spring has sprung

It was the first day of spring, not that you would guess it from the weather. Yes it was raining again! Nonetheless fifteen hardy souls had convened at St Ouen's Parish Hall for the morning's run and walk. We were joined by Droopy Drawers and 28° South – it has been a while since we last saw them but it is their home parish after all. Jacko was the hare and after updating us with the local sports scores explained that the trail had been laid in coloured chalk and 'dark' sawdust. So it was on-on.

The trail for the seven runners can be seen courtesy of Steptoe's strava (see pics below). It was an impressive five and a quarter miles.

Meanwhile the eight walkers covered slightly less distance - a not too shabby four and a third miles. They found many of the footpaths that now grace the countryside of our largest parish – some old and some new.

As usual for Jacko's runs the On Home led to the Farmers' Inn. We squeezed ourselves into the cosy Saloon Bar and were soon quaffing ale, sipping coffee and feasting on chip butties and sausages.

Eventually Steptoe and Jacko asked us to assemble outside for the down downs. First up was Illegal Immigrant for his birthday; followed by Pervey, for getting lost trying to find the hash location two weeks previously and Twin Peaks', for illicit use of her 'phone; then finally Jacko our noble hare.
